Disciplinary regulations for students of the Vrije Universiteit Brussel

These Disciplinary Regulations have various objectives:

Firstly, they are an instrument for preserving order and maintaining discipline both on the campus and during the educational process. Secondly, the Disciplinary Regulations provide those concerned with information about the disciplinary procedures and help to prevent arbitrary sanctions. Students also derive rights from these regulations, such as the right to appeal and the right to be assisted in appeal proceedings.

Students who form part of the university community are expected to behave responsibly and with respect for those around them, and therefore show self-discipline. In this regard, the Disciplinary Regulations must be seen as a last resort that is applied when all other options have failed. It must also be emphasised that students have freedom of expression and critical debate, at all times.
